EDITORIAL

Sadly, on the morning of 27 September we found a very squashed, and very dead, hedgehog in the road outside our house. It had clearly only very recently happened and we were very sorry to see it. They are scarce enough as it is. However, that evening what did we see coming to the hedgehog feeding station, but a very live and active hedgehog? Not being able to tell one hedgehog from another it seems that the dead one may not have been “our” hedgehog after all; which was of some comfort to us.

And he/she has been returning each night as usual since then.

Archdeacon Alison mentions “Stir Up Sunday” on page 5, but our Christmas cake has been baked already, and very good it smells too. We now just have to feed it regularly with brandy until Christmas when it will be absolutely ready!! I don’t know how long the grandchildren will be coming for at Christmas this year but I don’t suppose the cake will last long past then.

A couple of weeks ago our daughter, along with her husband and children, attended the Harvest Festival service at their usual church (a long way from here). The service started with the words of that well known Harvest Hymn -

*“We plough the fields with tractors,
With drills we sow the land.....!”*

Nicky says that at that point she lost interest and stopped singing, and fortunately that was the end of the “new” hymns.

But how is it that today’s hymn writers seem to believe that they can “improve” on the old favourites when it is so patently obvious that they can’t?

Talking of old favourites. I recently heard again the old children’s song “Gilly Gilly Ossenfeffer Katzenellenbogen-by-the-Sea”. Max Bygraves 1954. Does anyone else remember it? The husband of my cousin Rosemary, a man called Peter Bond, was a BBC Radio announcer at that time and used to say that his (only) claim to fame was that he was the first person ever to say that name on air. Little things...!

Finally, have you been watching “Murder before Evensong” on the telly? The author, Revd. Richard Coles, was before his retirement a clergyman in Northamptonshire and came here to one of our “Evening Services of the Word” some years ago. I read the book when it came out, and I wasn’t sure how it would translate to the small screen, but in fact I am really enjoying it. (Channel 5 Tuesday evenings) It is set in a small rural parish rather like ours (and like his no doubt) and I am sure I recognise some of the characters!

Remember, Remember

Remember, Remember... That is, of course, the beginning of the children's rhyme about the gunpowder plot of 1605. But Remember is a very good summing up word for the month itself.

November brings us a season of remembering. All Saints followed by All Souls as we remember those who have gone before us. The Saints of old whose lives inspire us in our Christian journey and the local, maybe only known to us, souls who have walked with us in faith.

Remembrance Sunday and Armistice Day call us to remember the horrors of war so that in remembering we might avoid such actions as lead to these tragedies.

November also marks the end of the Church year and as with every time of ending and beginning we remember what has been and we look to what will be. The church year ends with the Sunday before Advent when we remember what is important to us. We keep it as the feast of Christ the King remembering that it is in Jesus Christ that all things are held together, that it is Jesus who the saints follow and it is the sacrifice of Jesus on the cross, laying down his life for us, that inspired those who lay down their life for peace.

That Sunday is also often known as 'Stir up Sunday' from the collect rather than from the Christmas pudding and cake stirring in the kitchen! The Book of Common prayer Collect leads us to pray "Stir up, O Lord, the wills of your faithful people; that they, plenteously bringing forth the fruit of good works, may by you be plenteously rewarded; through Jesus Christ our Lord."

So in this month of November I pray that we will remember... Those who lived faithful Christian lives (and do so too), those who we love as see no longer (cherishing our loved ones now), those who sacrifice for peace (and commit ourselves to work for peace) and finally Jesus Christ, God who left the glory of heaven to be one of us.

In our remembering may we be inspired to action, to be stirred up, faithful Christian people known for the fruit of Good Works. Amen.

*The Venerable Alison Booker
Archdeacon of Oakham*

CHURCH ROOF APPEAL

It is a big challenge for a small parish to raise the £66000 Target including Vat, but the marvellous Rectory Garden Drinks gave a great start to our own fundraising. Most grateful thanks to Tic and Luke Bridgeman and Heather Wilson for a flying start of £1630. Several very generous gifts have followed such that the prospect of reaching the target seems possible as we have six more national funding Trusts still to reply to detailed applications. However the likelihood of some £12000 of Vat not being recoverable does remain a serious problem, although we are nearing £25000 raised in all but it leaves a big gap to fill. We will keep readers informed. Churchwarden Gerard Hoare is the contact for more information.

We hope that the roof works can take place in April 2026.

PCC MEETING

14th. November 17.00 at Old West Farm

Places are limited, so please book as soon as possible by emailing our secretary, Anabel Lewis-Bowen on alewisbowen@btinternet.com. (Please note that the workshop will start promptly at 7.30pm.)

VILLAGE HALL COFFEE MORNING

Pots & Plans: what to do in your garden this winter

Philip Turvil

Dig a square hole for trees

If planting a tree this winter, dig a square hole. It helps roots establish quicker because they're more likely to break out the corners rather than risk going round and round, especially in clayier soils. Break up the bottom of the hole too. Then mix in peat-free compost and fertilisers before back filling.

Winter is great for planting because the soil is moist and most trees are dormant. You'll also find the best selection of trees to buy from garden centres and online. Oh, I love choosing trees. There are amazing spring and autumn leaf colours to choose from, plus diverse flowers and fruits. Some trees are subtle and compact. Others are boisterous and spreading. So select your tree and its position carefully.

Protect vulnerable plants from frost

For hardier varieties of tender plants, such as fuchsia and salvia, they're best unpruned until you see new growth in spring. The old growth guards next year's buds. So wait until your plants are looking lively in spring before removing dead growth and clipping back to a satisfying dome shape.

For borderline hardy plants that are too big to move indoors, these are best wrapped up in a cosy blanket. This is useful for bananas, olives, passion flower, tree ferns, and bottlebrush. Horticultural fleece makes a good blanket when secured with string or netting. As does hessian. I like to loosen covers during milder spells to allow ventilation before rewrapping.

For non-hardy bedding plants such as petunia, these are usually replaced each year. But for plants growing tubers underground, such as dahlia and cannas, store tubers frost-free overwinter. First dig up your tubers, dry off, and store in dry compost or vermiculite until replanting indoors in spring.

Snap, snap

November is perfect for photographing your garden before making changes in 2026. You'll capture the boisterous growth of this year before any clearance, as well as see garden structures better as leaves fall.

November is also perfect for writing notes about your garden – both what you most enjoyed this year, and the garden areas and views that didn't make you smile.

Photos and notes help when planning changes with family, friends, or a designer. Perhaps you're plotting a new position for plants or veg. Or planning more year-round colour or lower maintenance?

When I select plants for people or design garden layouts, I love discussing how they'd like their garden to look, feel, and function for them and others using the space. Every area matters, from a small border to a whole garden.

Designers and landscapers get booked up now for spring, so it's worth starting conversations early. You can contact me for a consultation or free quote for plant selection or garden layout. Please visit www.brightenmygarden.com or contact me on 07701 296621 and philip@brightenmygarden.com.

Look after wildlife

Keep bird feeders topped up and birdbaths clean. Fresh water's just as important as food. Leave a few seed heads and berries for birds — they love teasels, sunflowers, and hawthorn.

For the insects - and all their friends (and prey) - make a bug hotel next to a border or hedge. Or pile up logs and leaves in a quiet corner.

Love your lawn, but not too much

Don't mow unless it's mild and dry - winter mowing can stress the grass. Rake up leaves so they don't smother the lawn.

If your lawn is compacted, spike it with a fork to improve drainage and brush in lawn dressing (or sharp sand/fine top soil mix). Avoid walking on your lawn when it's frosty or sodden — you'll damage the roots.

I still like to edge the lawn for a tidy look. It's not glamorous, but it makes a big difference. A neat lawn in winter feels oddly satisfying.

My best wishes to you and your garden

Council Update

The Council met on the 1st of October. As well as the standard agenda items, updates were discussed on the ongoing flood prevention issue, the Parish Council News email, Remembrance Day events and the maintenance of the Village Hall.

We have been informed by West Northants Council that the remaining flood prevention work is due to take place by the end of October. We will monitor this and if necessary, continue to lobby the relevant WNC departments to ensure that every effort is made to prevent further flooding to residents' homes.

In September, we sent out our first Parish Council news email. This initiative was set up to help residents stay up to date with what is happening in the village through a regular PC email. Over 140 people have now signed up to receive this; however, so far only half have activated their email invitation, so if you haven't heard from us yet, please check your spam folders. If you wish to join the mailing list, you can do so by emailing clerk@newnhamparishcouncil.gov.uk

As part of the village Remembrance Day commemorations, a second 'Tommy Statue' has been purchased by the Parish Council. This will be placed by the War Memorial in readiness for Remembrance Sunday along with a commemorative wreath. The other Tommy Statue is permanently situated outside the recently refurbished Bus Shelter on the Village Green and the large poppies displayed last year will also be placed on the lampposts around the village.

The Chair of the Village Hall Committee attended the meeting to share plans for much needed improvements to the building. The Village Hall is a charity run by volunteers who work hard to keep the hall available for the many different groups and events in Newnham. The main hall is in desperate need of redecoration to make it a modern and attractive space for events, and the toilets require a full refurbishment. The income received from bookings and through fundraising events, such as the 200 Club and the recent Garage Sale, just about cover the ongoing running costs, so additional funds are needed to deliver any improvements to the building. The Council recognise that the Village Hall is an important village asset and will look what support might be available.

Finally, the usual reminder – we have a vacancy for a new Councillor. If you're interested, please feel free to contact myself or the Parish Clerk.

The next Parish Council Meeting is Monday 3rd November, starting at 7.00pm in the Village Hall. The agenda for this meeting, together with all minutes and agendas, is available on the Council website newnhamparishcouncil.gov.uk
